1. The fortifications along the Yugoslav border are planned as a double line of bunkers along the whole frontier.
2. In addition to defense, they are planned to prevent any mass exodus in case of war. However the installations thus far constructed are too weak to withstand modern methods of attack.
3. At present the bunker line is under construction and positions for infantry weapons, AT and machine guns are being carried on. The work is being carried forward slowly and with long periods of interruption.
